

Death of Democracy

Winter 2009

Have you noticed how the rate of social change has been speeding up? Subtle changes are taking place and regulations are being brought into our country from Europe or the UN or some other source with no scrutiny from our Parliament and no public debate. Democracy in Britain is dying a slow death - not by conquest of foreign armies but by national suicide.

Our great Parliamentary traditions that have guaranteed our freedoms and rights as individuals and have guarded our values, principles and beliefs, founded upon our Judaeo-Christian heritage are all being swept away at a stroke by the most Godless Government in recent history. No, I am not making a party political statement! I'm speaking the truth in what may be the last days of our freedom to do so!

Prophetic Role

Throughout the centuries the role of the church has been to be the prophet to the nation: to declare the truth based upon the word of God: to stand for justice: to be a voice for the voiceless: to be an advocate for the poor and powerless and to oppose the oppressors and the deceivers who try to use their positions of privilege to destroy righteousness and advance their own warped agenda of spiritual wickedness. It is in this tradition that I stand.

There are currently four major forces of change driving across the world and threatening our freedoms - freedoms for which our forefathers fought two terrible and costly wars last century. They are in the Economy, Politics, Religion and the Environment. Behind all these powerful forces of change there are groups of world leaders such as the Bilderbergs and the Illuminati who exercise unseen power and influence in world affairs through bodies such as the United Nations, the European Union, the G8, the G20 and many international bodies as well as trade alliances and powerful international corporations.

The Economy

The past two years have seen incredible upheavals in the world economy with the collapse of banks and great financial institutions. How much of this has been manipulated by powerful world leaders following an agenda of gaining control of the world's economy in order to advance their own interests? The way in which the bankers are determined to hold on to their system of bonuses demonstrates that they are not in business for the public good but to promote their own self interest. Some are threatening to move offshore if the FSA imposes controls. Stock markets are currently booming as world financial leaders encourage people to invest their wealth based on the false hopes of 'green shoots' while they themselves buy gold to hedge against the next collapse where they will reap a handsome profit and once again the poor will be plunged further into debt!

Political Institutions

The drive towards centralisation and control is gathering momentum and increasing pace. The objective is to stifle protest, to limit individual freedom, to impose a system of control the public cannot influence and only the political elite can manipulate. In Britain we have been denied our right to a referendum on the European Union becoming a superstate. Our politicians have proved to be liars and deceivers in order to achieve their own purposes and to deny the public the right to choose our own destiny. The Lisbon Treaty has signed away our freedoms and thousands of years of national identity. At the stroke of a pen our unelected Prime Minister gave the nation away into the hands of unelected commissars of the European Union.

The Environment

The latest powerbroker to come on the scene is the climate control lobby who have become a powerful international group that have emerged out of the New-Age Movement. They are about to achieve an incredible international dictatorship coup with the signing of the Copenhagen Treaty December 2009. It is based upon an amazing pseudo-scientific scare-scum. This group of New-Agers, atheists, secularists and God-haters have managed to convince the world that the whole of our climate is changing through what they call 'global warming' which they attribute to carbon dioxide emissions from our cities and industrial plants.

Clearly, the world is warming slowly, but by natural causes. The scare stories that have grabbed graphic headlines around the world are being used to gain world control. At last a group of scientists have spoken up exposing the lies behind the scams. The fact is that no more than one sixth of global warming is due to radiation trapped in the ozone layer. This was revealed by Viscount Christopher Monckton in a speech last month in St Paul's Minnesota broadcast in the USA where he appealed to the American people not to allow President Obama to go to Copenhagen and sign away their nation's freedoms.

The Copenhagen Treaty is actually a cover for world government. That term is explicitly used in the Treaty. It will set up an organisation that overrides national governments handing over control of finance and trade markets with no provision for opt out. The 200 page Treaty gives greater power to unelected global rulers than the Lisbon Treaty has given to the EU. It will have oversight of national economies, dictating what fuel you can use in your car and how nations can manage international trade. It will set up a system whereby rich nations can buy the CO2 emissions quota from poorer nations and will effectively give economic control to this unelected group.

Religion

The fourth movement of social change that is rapidly changing the whole of the Western world is the drive to establish a one-world religion. Tony Blair's Faith Foundation is a step along that road. In Britain it can be seen not only in Government legislation undermining Christian values and traditions but also in our broadcasting media - particularly the BBC whose Head of Religious Broadcasting is a Muslim! The latest moves in that direction were the Morning Service on Radio Four on Sunday 15th November 2009 devoted to a New Age 'Listening to the Voices of Creation' theme and a discussion on whether 'Thought for the Day' on Radio Four's flagship 'Today Programme' should be secularised with the introduction of talks by atheists and humanists. The EU is also well advanced in secularisation with their latest edict ordering crucifixes to be removed from schools and public places in Italy.

Unless

All these four forces of social change are moving with the speed of the 'Four Horsemen of The Apocalypse' to change the world in preparation for a One-World-Government, a One-World-Economy and a One-World-Religion, as prophesied in the Bible which will put total control in the hands of a small elite group of powerbrokers. Unless, of course, the public open their eyes and see what's going on before it's too late. Unless people rise up and say to their politicians, "Thus far and no farther!" - Unless Christians wake up and declare the word of the Lord and intercede on behalf of the world! - Unless the Spirit of God is poured out in revival and social and spiritual transformation!

Domestic Policy

But we cannot look to our present Government for help. Just look at their domestic policy. Four times they have tried to enact a Bill that would make it illegal to speak the truth about homosexual practices and send preachers to prison who read in public relevant Bible passages. Thank God for the House of Lords that threw it out once again and defended the little bit of our freedom of speech that is still left.

It is often said that nations get the Governments they deserve. How is it that we got such a Government in Britain? There's a fairly simple answer - as a nation we have been turning away from the word of God for 50 years and once you abandon ultimate standards of truth you are open to every kind of deception and distortion. As GK Chesterton once said 'When you cease to believe in God you don't believe nothing, you believe anything!'

Labour Landslide

Governments reflect the people they represent. This became increasingly apparent in the 1980s and 90s especially as the corruption and scandals of John Major's Government were exposed and even the Prime Minister himself was involved in an adulterous relationship. When the nation is led by a man who is deceiving his own wife and family there is little hope of integrity of Government. At the 1997 General Election the nation was so sick of the Tory Government the people would have elected Mickey Mouse in preference to giving them another term.

The swing to New Labour was so great that many MPs were elected in seats that Labour regarded as 'no-hopers'. The central party organisation had not bothered to check candidates in these constituencies; it was left to the little group of party activists - left-wing rebels, Secularists, Trotskyites and Marxists - to choose a candidate from among their local group - often only about 20 people. They were unexpectedly swept to power and formed a backbench pressure group that has dominated New Labour social policy designed to destroy traditional family life and Christian values.

Social Breakdown

They have systematically introduced one measure after another that has led to widespread breakdown of family life and social cohesion. They have created the conditions that have brought misery and abuse into the lives of millions of children. They have taught explicit sexual practices and perversions in the classrooms of our state schools that have resulted in Britain having the highest rate of teenage pregnancies, teenage abortions and sexually transmitted infections in Europe.

As a result of their family and education policies we have a crisis of behaviour both in the home and in school as demonstrated by the number of pupils who had to be excluded from school last year. The number of permanent exclusions during the year 2008 was 15,940. And the number of fixed period exclusions was a staggering 757,280 - more than three quarters of a million children excluded from school for outrageous or antisocial behaviour.

Future Hope

What further harm can this Government do in their last five months in power? But please do not think that I'm advocating a mere change of Government to save this nation! We have reached such a stage of degradation and depravity that only God can heal our nation which is why this Ministry (CCM) is embarking upon a national tour next year with a powerful message of salvation under the title of HEAL OUR LAND.
